Constructed in 1937 from rocks and sand gathered from the desert floor, Taliesin West is now a National Historic Landmark. Taliesin West began as a winter home for Wright's Wisconsin school. Students lucky enough to study at Taliesin lived in tents and simple shelters, and now, more than 50 years later, they still do! Noted for its unusual form, this architectural masterpiece is an excellent example of the way in which Frank Lloyd Wright attempted to harmonize his creations with their natural surroundings.

Full Day Tour

Sedona Tour by Land @ $65.00 Per Person

A land of timeless, awe-inspiring beauty, Sedona mesmerizes visitors with its magnificent, natural red rock sculptures and pristine National Forests. The first stop on this journey to Sedona is Montezuma Castle National Monument, nestled into a limestone recess high above the flood plain of Beaver Creek in the Verde Valley. Montezuma Castle is one of the best preserved and most easily accessible cliff ruins in North America. More than 600 years ago, this five-story, 20-room cliff dwelling served as a "high-rise apartment building" for prehistoric Sinagua Indians. As you reach Sedona our knowledgeable guides will point out surreal landmarks and allow for scenic stops and photo opportunities along the way. Next, you will be transported past panoramic views of majestic red rock formations to the village of Tlaquepaque (T-lockey-pockey). Named for a picturesque suburb of Mexico's Queen City, Guadalajara, Tlaquepaque's construction began in 1971 with the creation of the wall along the highway. Soon artists and artisans, craftsmen and chefs were plying their art within its confines. Today, its boundaries enclose more than 40 shops featuring one-of-a-kind items that make a visit to Tlaquepaque incomparable. Uptown Sedona shops and restaurants are also a short walking distance away. As you depart Sedona, they will enjoy the breathtaking hues as the sun sets against the Red Rocks.
